

Craig, Driver Offer Time To Relief Run

Craig Transportation Co., Perrysburg, Ohio, and Ron Adams, an independent owner-operator working for Craig, volunteered time and equipment to relief efforts in Palo, Iowa, following the floods that ravaged the Midwest in late June.

Adams volunteered his time and tractor for a relief run, while Craig provided the trailer, which was loaded with supplies donated by ISOH/Impact, a charitable organization also based in Perrysburg.

Arnie Ralenkotter of Pilot Travel Centers donated $500 toward diesel fuel for the 480-mile trip.

Craig said the Iowa trip wasn't the first flood-relief run for

Craig officials Greg Szczublewski and Chris Simmons flank owner-operator Ron Adams.

Adams, who also volunteered his services after Hurricane Katrina.

Craig is a regional truckload carrier.
